DESCRIPTION

Slades House Country Inn occupies a prominent roadside location on the A389 connection road between Wadebridge and Bodmin. The property was constructed originally in the 17th Century and was formerly part of the Pencarrow Estate, and acquired by our clients' family in 1945.

The property comprises a detached, three-storey building under a pitched slate roof with many later extensions, private garden and car parking areas.

THE BUSINESS

Slades House Country Inn offers a unique opportunity to acquire a prominent freehouse restaurant with potential letting rooms, located in the heart of the village of Sladesbridge, which lies close to Wadebridge. The business opens six days a week (closed on Tuesdays) throughout the year, trading from 11am to 11pm, although at present some hours are limited. The business has a loyal and extensive local following, offering food and drink. The business receives an exceptional boost during the seasonal months with the many visitors to the area.

The reason for sale is due to vendors' desire to retire.
